Clay County man killed in Crab Orchard wreck

By Katelynn Griffin

A Clay County man was killed around 10 a.m. Friday in a single-vehicle accident outside of Crab Orchard.

Family members at the scene identified the man as James Layton, 51, of Manchester.

Lincoln County Sheriff Curt Folger said that Layton was traveling west on US 150 in a Ford F-150 when he attempted to pass another vehicle, over-corrected, crossed into the east bound lane and left the highway. The crash occurred at the intersection of South and North Delaney Road.

Firefighters from Station 6 in Broughtontown had to extricate Layton from the vehicle. Deputy Coroner Don Gilliam pronounced Layton dead at the scene.

Kentucky State Trooper First Class Eric Taylor said that Layton was not wearing his seat belt and he does not suspect that alcohol or drugs played a role in the accident.

East End Ambulance and Kentucky Vehicle Enforcement also assisted at the scene. Kentucky State Police are investigating the crash.

James Layton, 51, of Manchester, Ky., died Friday morning in a single-vehicle crash on US 150 near Crab Orchard. Layton was attempting to pass another vehicle when he lost control of his truck and left the highway.

Department for Local Development Commissioner and former Garrard Judge-Executive Tony Wilder reminded guests and workers at LMI that the grant that made the creation of 22 new jobs possible was federal money that some politicians want to cut.

LMI adds 22 jobs with block grant equipment

By Michael Broihier

Citing the recall of legislators for a special session to pass critical infrastructure bills, Gov. Steve Beshear sent his regrets that he could not attend a midday check presentation ceremony at Lincoln Manufacturing in Stanford, but Department for Local Development Commissioner and former-Garrard County Judge Executive Tony Wilder did the honors on his behalf.

Wilder was broad in his praise for the local, county, state and federal officials who were pivotal in securing a $280,000 Community Development Block Grant to purchase new equipment for the Japanese-owned company that makes a wide range of precision automotive parts. Wilder said that when the grant was written it suggested that the new equipment would add 14 new jobs to LMI's payroll, but once in place exceeded that estimate by creating a total of 22 new jobs in the community.

In expressing the governor's regrets for missing the presentation, Wilder said, "He can't be here because the legislature is not working as it should."

Not limiting his criticism to state legislators, Wilder also reminded LMI workers and guests where the grant money came from. "This is federal money, part of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009. When you hear certain national-level politicians talking about cutting spending, this is what they are talking about," Wilder said. "Federal money is indispensable for projects like this."

Tom Fern, the USDA's State Director for Rural Development, was also part of the presentation and went out his way to thank LMI owner Masato Sugimura for his company's continued commitment to retaining jobs during the country's economic slump. "I want to thank you for your continuing efforts to be an important part of the community."

Kirkpatrick, K9 partner assist in Garrard arrests

By Michael Broihier

Last Friday, Lincoln County Sheriff's Deputy Ryan Kirkpatrick and his K9 partner Inyo played a pivotal role in the arrest of three armed robbery suspects in Garrard County. Lancaster Police Chief Rodney Kidd said that Kirkpatrick and Inyo were really helpful and contributed directly to the arrest of the suspected robbers.

Around 11:45 p.m. on April 16, a woman, who thought she was going to buy a game station from a seller on Craigslist ended up meeting four armed robbers instead. The woman had arranged to meet someone she thought was selling a PlayStation near the Village Square Apartments in Lancaster. When she got to the designated meeting point, she was robbed of over $300 in cash before her assailants fled toward the apartments.

The victim called 911 and after making contact with the victim, Lancaster Police called the Lincoln County Sheriff's department for assistance tracking the robbers. Deputy Ryan Kirkpatrick and his K9 partner Inyo were dispatched and quickly tracked the suspects to an apartment in Block F of the Village Square Apartments.

The victim identified three of here assailants, Daniel Dunaway, 19, Brandon Vanover, 18 and Cassie Foley, 18 who were all taken into custody.

According to a press release from the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office, the K9 was also used to search the subjects apartment and turned up suspected narcotics therein.

Chief Kidd said, though is the first arrest his department has made on a Craigslist crime, it is not the first he's heard of. "We really want people to report these crimes; people are getting robbed. It doesn't help anybody if you don't report a crime because you're embarrassed."

Dunaway and Vanover have been charged with 1st Degree Armed Robbery and are in the Lincoln County Regional Detention Center on a $10,000 cash bond. Foley was charged with Facilitation of 1st Degree Robbery and is being held on a $5,000 cash bond.

Kidd said that he'd like for his department to have a working dog but financial constraints on the city don't allow. He said that he appreciates the K9 support he gets from both Garrard and Lincoln county sheriffs and that he encourages his officers to work closely with adjoining police forces.

Theresa Long fills Whittemore's seat on Board of Ed

By Stephanie Mojica

The Lincoln County Board of Education swore in a new member Thursday and discussed remediation options for Lincoln County High School.

Theresa Long of Stanford will serve on the Board of Education until the end of the year and also plans to run for the office. The state recently appointed Long, who has a long history of volunteerism with the Lincoln County school system.

"I feel she will be an asset to the board," said Superintendent Karen Hatter. "I think her perspective can really help us during this time."

Long replaces Eddie Whittemore, who resigned in January. Long retired in 2008 from the Bluegrass Community Action Partnership in Danville and currently works in marketing and admissions for the Christian Care Center in Lancaster.

"I want to be a voice for the parents," Long said during a telephone interview Saturday.

She hopes to get more community members involved in the schools and focused on the positive aspects of education in Lincoln County.

"Most of what is talked about in the community is the negative," Long said. "But there are a lot of positive things, too, that we

Dateline Afghanistan

IJ editor to leave paper

By Michael Broihier

Some will rejoice, others not so much, but my time as your editor has come to an end. For several reasons I have accepted a yearlong job in Afghanistan. Remuneration aside, the two main reasons I've decided to leave the paper are the mission and my wife's experiences during her tour of duty in Afghanistan in 2010.

My penultimate reason for taking an overseas assignment, albeit in a civilian vice uniformed role, is that the mission in Afghanistan is a worthy one. During Passover, I listened to my wife carefully explain to a reluctant relative why we are fighting in Afghanistan today. Here are the wave tops: the Afghans fought our proxy war with the Ruskies, bleeding them into submission in 1989 after a decade of brutal combat. With the Soviets evicted, we lost interest and for all intents and purposes abandoned those who'd fought for us. A short-lived government was overthrown in the early 90s and replaced by the intolerant Taliban which ruled the country by terror, allowing any radical Islamic group to call Afghanistan its home. Little attention was paid to Afghanistan until 9/11 when al-Qaida operatives planned, trained for and launched their attacks on the US from that country.

The simple fact is, that if we leave Afghanistan before we have fundamentally changed the way it is governed, the Taliban or some other like-minded group will quickly return with the expected result that it would, once again, become a terrorist safe haven. Through the selfless efforts of our servicemen and women, that has been forestalled, but after cheering from the sidelines for almost a decade, it's time to put my money where my mouth is. I've argued on this page that we need to stay in Afghanistan until the mission is completed, and now I am going to go and do my small part to further that end.

My second reason for taking this assignment is that there is no one's opinion I value more highly than my spouse's and her words, when she returned from Afghanistan 18 months ago were, "Dude, you've got to go!" She loved the country, the people, most of the culture and the job the Marines she served with were performing. She knew that I would like it too. We both spent most of our adult lives in the Marine Corps and the lure of travel, adventure and service to country does not lessen after retirement.

I leave the paper healthy and in good hands. The Interior Journal's parent company, Schurz Communications, has not selected a new editor yet, but have hired ace intern Katelynn Griffin to report on Lincoln County news. The same genial and efficient staff remain in place, and with Bonnie Kolasa, Gina Cooper, Nancy Leedy and Anne Montgomery performing in their usual professional manner you can be assured that the paper will continue to thrive.

I would be remiss not to thank those ladies who've helped immeasurably as I stumbled my way through learning the duties of first reporter then editor. My thanks also go out to Publisher Scott Schurz and Executive Editor John Nelson who have never given anything less than total support to my efforts to maintain The Interior Journal's pivotal role in the community. The list of those in the community who've helped me in my tenure as editor is too long to thank each individually, but you know who you are. In most cases I couldn't have done it without you and hope you will build the same professional relationship with whomever is hired to replace me.

I hope to check in from time-to-time and keep you updated as to what's happening amongst your servicemen and women overseas which will fulfill one of my few journalistic aspirations, to sign a byline, "Afghan Bureau Chief."

It's been a pleasure and an honor to serve as The Interior Journal's editor and I will remember this short time and all of you fondly.

Thanks, be well and stay in touch.

Effort to combat bullying would punish too much speech

By Gene Policinski

The First Amendment's protection for free speech seems fairly unlimited – an unambiguous provision included in just 45 simple words that begin with "Congress shall make no law …"

No intricate phrases, no flowery modifiers. We even have common way of restating the idea: "I can say what I want … I'm an American." But that doesn't mean there are no limits, restrictions or rules.

Words involved in criminal activity – say, solicitation for prostitution – are not protected speech. Defamatory statements are subject to legal action after being written or uttered, to make good the damage unfairly done. Words that carry no penalty when spoken at, say, high noon in the public square can prompt an arrest at 3 a.m. under a bedroom window. Seemingly innocuous words uttered repeatedly to an unwilling recipient reach the level of harassment.

And we cannot make "true threats" against another person. This particular exception to First Amendment protections seems simple enough. But even here we can have complex legal issues.

Case in point: A recent Arizona legislative proposal intended to combat cyberstalking and online bullying. Supporters say the proposed bill just revises existing law to include a new kind of media. But critics say it opens wide a door to potential constitutional violations by making it a crime to offend or annoy others.

No one is defending attacks on others via the Internet. Rather, critics of the measure say it fails to make important distinctions.

Groups ranging from booksellers to music companies to broadcasters have called on Arizona Gov. Jan Brewer, urging a veto of the bill. Lawmakers have since agreed to take another look at the legislation.

Among potential First Amendment issues that critics have identified:

- The proposal fails to distinguish between harassing speech delivered one-to-one, such as in an e-mail or telephone call, and harsh or offending speech on a web posting intended for the public with no specific individual intended as a target.

- The bill's terms are vague or unexplained, leaving the possibility of prosecution for language that may be offensive but historically lacks the basis for criminal charges.

The potential to chill legitimate – if contentious – speech merits this second look by the Legislature.

Clearly the web provides ways for launching anonymous, unrelenting attacks against people – particularly young people. But the web also has provided new opportunities for people to air views outside the acceptable, mainstream order of things. Many online discussions include frank – and sometimes profane or lewd – speech, which while offensive is not in and of itself illegal.

A law that purports to parse and punish speech that gives rise to criminal conduct, but which is not intended to apply to merely crude behavior, ought to use specific language and terms that define exactly what it means.

Those 45 words that protect free speech deserve that kind of careful wording.

Gene Policinski is senior vice president and executive director of the First Amendment Center.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Heritage Hospice recognizes volunteers

Editor,

National Volunteer Week is April 15 -21, a time to recognize and celebrate the thousands of men, women and young people who volunteer in communities across the country and locally. As Executive Director of Heritage Hospice, Inc., I would like to honor all those who are dedicated to providing care and support for patients and families in our community who are nearing the end of life's journey.

Across the country, more than 458,000 trained volunteers provide more than 21 million hours of service to hospice organizations. More than 1.58 million people received compassionate care from hospice every year and hospice volunteers are an integral part of the care team.

In our community, approximately 100 volunteers work with Heritage Hospice to care for patients, help with outreach, assist in the office, provide fundraising support, serve on boards and committees and much more. Without their support, we would not be able to provide the care and services to patients and families faced with life limiting illness.

It is often thought that receiving hospice care is giving up – hospice is about living as fully as possible, even at the end of life. Hospice provides care, support and dignity.

I encourage you to learn about services offered by Heritage Hospice by calling (859) 236-2425 or by visiting heritagehospice.com.

I also encourage you to join other members of the community by volunteering. Make a difference in the lives of others by sharing the gift of yourself.

An encouraging word

Just do your duty

By Howard Coop

Spring, that beautiful and long awaited time of the year, was just around the corner, and the morning dawned bright and beautiful. I could not have asked for a better day. I had made plans-lots of plans-for that day, and I looked forward to pursuing those plans vigorously.

Then, I looked at my "to do" list for the day, and that list was longer than long. There were more things to do on it than there was time to do them, and it made me tired just to think of all the work I needed to do that day. Then, I noted that there was a vast difference between the things I wanted to do and the things I needed to do. I was torn between doing the pleasurable things I had planned to do and wanted to do and doing some of the unpleasant things on that list that I needed to do. So, I was caught on the horns of a dilemma.

When it comes to facing duty, there is no place for dillydallying. There are times-almost always-when duty takes precedent over pleasure. So that beautiful morning, duty determined that certain tasks be done without delay. I learned that important lesson a long time ago.

As a college sophomore studying English literature, the students in that class were introduced to Thomas Carlyle, a distinguished writer and native of Leicestershire, England, who lived from 1795 until 1881. In that class session, we were directed to SARTOR RESARTUS, one of the more famous works of Carlyle that contains the famous statement that deal with facing duty.

That statement, written in archaic language, has remained with me to guide me throughout my adult life. That statement leaves no room for dillydallying. It simply states, "Do the duty which lies nearest thee, which thou knowest to be a Duty!" By the time that duty is finished, "Thy second Duty will already have become clearer."

Calvary Tabernacle Church news

This week, Calvary Tabernacle Church had two powerful messages preached. Pastor Jon preached a great message on Wednesday evening and Sunday afternoon God moved in another message in the power of expectations.

We will be at Golden Living at 10 a.m. on Sunday, May 6. James 1:27 says, "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

Our next community feeding is Saturday, April 21. Deuteronomy 15:11 reads, "For the poor shall never cease out of the land: therefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt open thine hand wide unto thy brother, to thy poor, and to thy needy, in thy land." If you would like more information about this program, contact Rhonda Hall at (606) 365-0240 or (606) 669-0077.

Our verse of the week is: Matthew 6:25, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?

"Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?

And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: And yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which today is, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?

Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?"

Pastor Hall would like to invite everyone to come and worship at Calvary Tabernacle Church. Services are Wednesdays at 7 p.m. and Sunday school at 2 p.m. on Sunday. The church is located at 57 West Pleasant Point School Road, Waynesburg.

If you have any quesetions, please contact Jonathan Hall at (606) 365-0240 or (606) 669-2019.

News from Watts Chapel Baptist Church

By Neville Hacker

The Sunday morning service at Watts Chapel Baptist Church began with Bro. Dick Ledford reading the prayer requests and announcements. We have many prayer requests and they are lifted up to God who can comfort in any situation.

Watts Chapel will be receiving its Annie Armstrong Easter offering next Sunday.

Bro. Dan Gutenson is in revival this week and Bro. Josh Blanton brought the message. His message was "A God Centered Gospel". The text he used was Romans 5:6-12, For when we were without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die; yet perhaps for a good man someone would even dare to die. But God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. Much more then, having now been justified by His blood we shall be saved from wrath through Him. For if when we were enemies we were reconciled to God through the death of His Son, much more, having been reconciled, we shall be saved by His life. And not only that, but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received the reconciliation. Therefore, just as through one sin entered the world, and death through sin, and thus death spread to all men, because all sinned.

Bro. Josh explained to us that because of how we have separated ourselves from God by our sinful lives that God already had a plan in place with His Son to take care of the sin problem. We could not climb up to God, he said, so God came down to us in the person of Jesus Christ. He came down and lived a perfect life and was slain for an atonement for our sin. He looked down through time and saw the sin in our lives and how we were helpless to do anything about it. Also knowing that sin brings death to us, came to earth to die as a sacrificial lamb for us. When God sees the sin in our lives it is an abomination to Him. He loves us but hates the sin in our lives. He alone can do something about it. We can do all the good works, visit the sick, visit those in prison, give generously and etc. but if our heart is not in it, it is as filthy rags to Him. Isaiah 64:6 says, But we are all like an unclean thing and all our righteousness are like filthy rags. When God looks at us He looks with a broken heart at times much like we would look at a child who had gone astray from the lessons we had taught them in love and for their own good. But by repenting of our sins, (being sorry for the things we have done in the past) turning from the sin and accepting the new life God has for us, He will empower us with the Holy Spirit who will dwell in our hearts and help us to resist the pull of the flesh. Having the Spirit of Holiness living with us causes sin to be repulsive to us just as it is repulsive to God. When we are transformed by the Holy Spirit we are dressed in Christ's holiness and that is what God sees when he looks at us. We want God not only to love us, Which He does no matter what we do, We want Him to love what we are doing. We want Him to say when He returns "Well done my good and faithful servant. The true Christ centered gospel is that Christ died for everyone.

We can't sin enough to separate from God if we ask for His forgiveness and mean it with our whole heart. Won't you ask Him to come into your heart? If you are looking for a church home, come and visit Watts Chapel. We are a warm and friendly group and we have a wonderful pastor and wife. They both are very caring and loving people.

Our meeting times are Sunday school at 10 a.m. morning worship service at 11 a.m. Sunday night at 7 p.m. and Wednesday night A.W.A.N.A.s at 6:30 p.m. and Bible study at 7 p.m.

Lions Club shares student's excitement

Shannon Adington, a member of the Lincoln County High School band, was selected by band director, Dale Mayberry, to go to Seattle, Wash., last June through the sponsorship of the Stanford Lions Club.

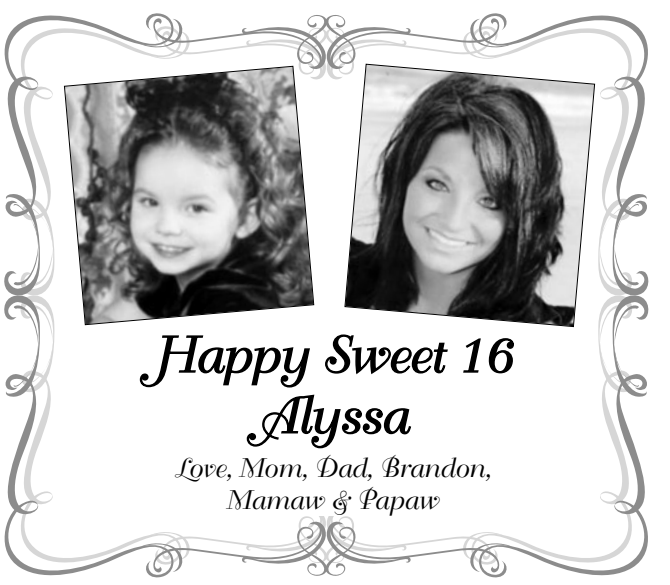
Shannon was to be a part of the Kentucky All-State Band that marched in the Lions International parade. The band was picked to be part of the flag ceremony during the parade.

Shannon, who said she was really nervous about coming to the Lion's meeting on April 2, soon showed all the excitement of reliving her trip as she shared pictures with those attending the Lions Club meeting. She stated, "it was an experience of a lifetime."

The bus trip started at Murray State, where she met the other band members and had some time there to practice. They traveled to St. Louis and across the plains and mountains and spent some time in Yellowstone National Park. Shannon was impressed with the Lions Convention, especially the pin trading at the Seattle Convention Center. The bus tour back home brought her through Salt Lake City.

Shannon was very thankful to the Stanford Lions Club for making this trip possible for her. This was the first time for the Lions Club to sponsor a band member.

The Lions Club meets the first and third Monday of each month at 6:30 p.m. at the First Southern Community Arts Center. We enjoy fellowship and sharing the excitement of making things possible. If you would like to join us, or for more information, call Sharon Woods, president at (606) 669-2597.



Fairview Baptist Church news

By Shelby Lakes

On Sunday, Bro. Johnny Baker was on vacation; Youth Minister Jeremy Pope delivered the message.

Bro. Jeremy drew that message from Philippians 2:12-36. The title was "Expectations of Christian Life." He said there are many expectations in life, including parents' expectations of children, spouses' expectations of each other, employers of employees, our expectation of our pastors, and pastors' expectations of us. God also has expectations that we as Christians should strive to meet, Bro. Jeremy said.

Problems in churches come from within, Bro. Jeremy said, when members don't meet each other's expectations. Walk in openness and humility with one spirit, building the church to meet God's expectations, he said. (Verse 14 says, "Do all things without murmurings and disputing.")

Christ has expectations for us to mimic him, Bro. Jeremy said. We are not perfect; we may not be on the level God wants us to be, but we shouldn't stop trying. We were bought at a price (the sacrifice of Christ), and we belong to God.

Following God is hard, but things we do make differences in people's lives. Christian life makes demands of its followers, Bro. Jeremy said. How are you comparing? Are you meeting God's expectations, like Jesus met ours? (end of sermon summary)

Celebrating their birthdays were Warren Burton, Doris Hogue, Scot Tankersley and Dustin Oney. Celebrating anniversaries were Jim and Ann Doss, and Sheila and Mark Reed.

News from Highland Methodist Church

The afterglow of Easter was still shining brightly as the congregation entered for worship at the Highland United Methodist Church on Sunday, April 15.

The singing was heartfelt and uplifting as they sang, "Alleluia," "More Love to Thee O Christ", and "Who is He in Yonder Stall." We ended the service by singing, "Lord, I Want to Be a Christian."

The choir blessed us all as they sang one of their favorites, "You Ain't Seen the Last of Jesus."

Rev. Scilley reminded us that believing was hard for the women at the tomb, hard for the disciples, and even harder for Thomas. Likewise, it is also difficult for us too.

People of faith must be patient with unbelieving people and must continue to pray for them.

Jesus said that those who walk by faith and not by sight will be blessed with peace, joy, love, purpose and eternal life. All of these are made possible because of God's love through Jesus.

Some of the prayer requests were for Brooklyn Miracle and her family, Kinney Noe, Jo Ann Elliott, Hank Senior, Phyllis Young, Wilma May, Harley Matlock, Joanne Watts Greer, Sue and Jim Peek and the Jacobs family. Also, every week we pray for all of the churches in our area and missionaries around the world.

We give thanks for everyone who is active in a church. Our prayers are lifted on behalf of the shut-ins, unchurched, disenchanted, doubters and unbelievers. God cares, and so do we.

Our visitor on Sunday was Frankie Young's granddaughter, Gracie.

Frankie Young, Kim May and Mindy Pennington were workers with the children, and Jessie McGuffey was our nursery worker.

If you don't have a church home, join us at 10 and 11 a.m. on Sundays. The Highland United Methodist Church is big enough to care and small enough to make you a welcomed part of God's family.

Pleasant View Baptist Church news

By Scena Ann Petrey

Bro. Jerry sang a special on Sunday, April 15: "Praise You for the Cross: You gave Yourself for us." What true words; had it not been for the cross and Jesus where would we be?"

Bro. Kyle began a new series of messages Sunday morning entitled "Galatians - Freedom in Christ". His message Sunday was "Good News for Unbelievers and Believers" and came from Galatians 1:1-5.

"Galatians may be one of the strongest and more direct letters Paul ever wrote," state Bro. Kyle. The people in that church were trying to add the law and works as being necessary for Christianity. It was hard for them to see that Jesus died for everyone and anyone who repented of their sins will be saved. We can do nothing to earn our salvation; it is a gift from God.

As stated in this passage grace is the power to save and is the means of salvation, and peace is the result of salvation. Because God loves us, He sent Jesus. God did not have to force Jesus to come to earth. He came because of love. The book of Galatians was written to remind us all we need is the Gospel - "the good news of Jesus."

"Jesus + 0 = Everything," concluded Bro. Kyle.

Evening services were dismissed Sunday because Mrs. Lillian's visitation was at the church.

We extend sympathy and prayers to the following families: David Lee Bodner of Moreland passed away Wednesday, April 11 and was the under of Alisa Ruckel; Edward "Beet" Leach passed away Thursday, April 12 and was a member of Pleasant View; Lillian Jacobs passed away Friday, April 13 and her family are members of Pleasant View; Paul Oaks passed away Friday, April 13 and was the uncle of Jeremy Blanton; Matt Hutti whose grandmother passed away last weekend; and Harold Denson whose nephew Jimmy Greene passed away last weekend also. Please keep their families in your prayers as they go through the following weeks.

The next senior adult luncheon will be Wednesday, May 16 at 11:30 a.m.

Rehearsal began on Wednesday, April 18 for "I Love This Land" which will be presented at our July 1 celebration at the Kings Mountain Community Center. Everyone is invited to be a part of the choir. Rehearsal for the musical will be from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

The women of the Hedgeville Baptist Church will host a women's conference on May 5, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. A love offering will be taken since the conference is free. Breakfast and lunch will be provided. Contact Judy Jacobs for more information.

Please remember the two search teams in prayer as they seek to do God's will.

Stanford Nazarene Church news

By Buford Edwards II

Sunday morning, Stanford Church of the Nazarene was blessed by the wonderful worship service and challenged by the Word of God as Bro. Buford brought the message from The Epistle of James. We had 41 in attendance for our morning service and several returning Sunday night for our evening service continued in James concerning "Faith without Wavering."

Come out Wednesday night for Christian Education Night. The kids meet weekly and our adult class dubbed, "The Book" club is currently working through the book of Revelation.

This week we will continue our study in Revelation 15. Read up and join us for Bible study as we continue to discuss "The Seven Last Plagues" as well as the verse of the week: Rev. 15:8 (KJV) And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

Thought for the week: God is a gracious and merciful God but when His judgment is final, it is final.

The Ladies meet the first and third Tuesday of every month at 6 p.m. in the sanctuary completing a Beth Moore study on the book of Daniel. Come out and get involved in this study!

Big news! Beginning Sunday, May 6, we will be restarting Sunday school! Service times will change slightly. We will have Sunday school from 10 to 10:50 a.m. and the Sunday morning worship service will begin at 11 a.m. The other service times will remain unchanged.

Hydrant flushing may cause low pressure and discoloration of your household water in or near the areas being flushed. Customers are advised to check their water for signs of discoloration prior to doing laundry, or to refrain from doing laundry on these dates. If you notice discoloration in the water, let it run until it clears before doing laundry; usually this takes less than five minutes. If laundry appears stained, keep the articles wet and rewash them using a rust- removing compound. Do not use bleach on stained laundry as it will "set" the stain. Transportation Cabinet prepares for mowing season

The Kentucky Transportation Cabinet (KYTC) is gearing up for roadside mowing season, which stretches from May to October. State and contract crews will complete three mowing cycles, including litter removal on interstates, parkways and other primary routes throughout the state.

KYTC officials ask Kentuckians to do their part by keeping the state right of way clear of temporary signs and other obstacles that can obstruct the path of mowers and pose a hazard for mowing crews and motorists. Kentucky law prohibits placement of unauthorized signs on state right of way. The prohibition also applies to signs attached to utility poles on the right of way.

Campaign signs and other signs placed on state right of way that restrict sight distance or interfere with mowing operations will be removed by KYTC crews beginning Monday, April 23.

Signs will be moved to the state highway garage in each county of KYTC District 8 and kept for two weeks. Unclaimed signs will be discarded.

The Kentucky Transportation Cabinet asks that motorists use extra caution when traveling through these work zones.

Carol Moore and Judy Stull traveled to Lexington last Monday for a day of shopping. They enjoyed a nice lunch before returning home.

I inadvertently left a name out of an article concerning Charles Haran Johnson last week. I listed Charles H. Johnson and Wilbur Johnson as children of the late Dorothy and Worth Johnson and forgot to include Linna Johnson Denson, their daughter.

Many years ago, the Pleasant Point Baptist Church presented a small new testament to the late Worth Johnson. I just received word this week that the same New Testament, which Worth Johnson had carried with him all the time that he fought in World War I, was presented to Ethelene Johnson, widow of the late Wilbur Johnson, at the funeral of Charles H. Johnson last week. The presentation was made by the sons of Charles H. Johnson. It was a very thoughtful and heartwarming gesture.

Evelyn Terry traveled as guests of Tommy and Judy Terry to Indianapolis, Ind., last Thursday to visit with Dorothy Terry. Dorothy is Evelyn's former sister-in-law. They visited together on Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Dorothy's home. They shared some very pleasant meals together and spent many hours of talking and remembering old times.

Clarence and Marlene Roller, Jr. prepare for their prom

Marlene and Clarence Roller, Jr., missed their high school senior prom and are preparing for the big event to be held on May 12.

"About the first words out of Marlene's mouth when we had decided on going was, "I have nothing to wear"." This is coming from a woman who only has four closets of clothes. So the hunt began for a prom dress for her to wear. On day one, we visited several stores with no results. We saw several nice outfits but nothing that looked like Marlene.

We just decided to take our time and look when we could and hope something would just jump out at us one day while we were out shopping.

Our stategy worked! One day last week as we were walking around in one of our favorite stores, Marlene came up to me with a beautiful blue dress in hand. One look at it and I could just picture in my mind her being in it, it looked perfect. Now if only it fit. A trip to the dressing room proved us right. It fit and she was beautiful in it!

Once we got back home, the hunt was on for the accessories she would wear with the outfit. Necklace, bracelets, pins and scarf were all laid out with the outfit to see how they matched up. Her prom dress is now complete and just waiting for our big night out on the town.

As for me, I can't wait until the big night arrives and I get to escort her through the front door. My beautiful wife and her beautiful prom dress. What more could a man hope for?

One last thought, do I rent a limo for our special night? Time will tell.

New Covenant Church news

By Bethany Rowland

Both services at New Covenant on Sunday, April 15, were greatly filled with the spirit of the Lord.

In each service you could feel His presence from beginning to end and in the evening service we were wonderfully blessed to see a lost man come to Christ. Pastor, Bro Joel Rowland, felt God's leading to change our Sunday night service into more of a teaching/prayer service and it was definitely God's will. Sunday night was filled to the brim with God's spirit and love, a wonderful sermon and an amazing spirit of prayer for our community, our country and our lives individually.

Bro. Joel began a teaching series Sunday morning on "the Kingdom of God" (which he will be continuing over the next few Sunday nights), reading text from Mark 15:43 "Joseph of Arimathea, an honorable counselor, which also waited for the kingdom of God, came, and went in boldly unto Pilate, and craved the body of Jesus."

The religious rulers and leaders of Jesus' time believed that a Messiah would come, that prophecies would be fulfilled. They expected that God's kingdom and throne would be set up when this happened. These leaders believed that this Kingdom was only for them. They believed that they were the only ones worthy to be a part of such a grand kingdom, but they were highly mistaken.

The prophecy in Isaiah 61:1 foretells of Jesus' saying in Luke 4:18 "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised," and Mark 1:14-15 says "...Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God, And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel." Jesus plainly states His purpose over and over throughout His ministry. He makes it clear that He did not come only for those that have a high ranking and standard, that are wealthy and believe that they are perfectly happy, those that think they do not need help, that they have everything they'll ever need. He came for those to because He came for all. This all includes the poor, broken and lost. This includes the drug addict and alcoholic that have or are getting ready to lose everything because they just can't break this habit. This includes the prostitutes, drug dealers. This includes the ones that are in jail because they were led down the wrong road by the whole world's personal enemy, satan. This includes the one that was in the wrong place at the wrong time, that honestly had nothing to do with the situation, yet they are getting all of the blame. This includes the children that don't understand why their mommy and/or daddy doesn't love them. This includes the mother that can't bear to look at her child because of what it's father did to her, even though it is not the poor child's fault. In case you don't yet grasp the concept....Jesus came for ALL! And that includes YOU!

Now back to our text. These Hypocrites and Pharisees did not believe that Jesus was the Messiah because He was not all about them. He did not come directly to them telling them of this great Kingdom that He was now going to build and they were going to be co-rulers of. No, He was "anointed to preach the gospel to the poor....".

These rulers and leaders that thought they were so perfect and important yet they missed out on the only One that can actually make you that way. They missed out on Jesus, the Kingdom of God on Earth with us, and so they missed out on the Heavenly Kingdom. It is the same with you, friend. If you do not accept Jesus while here on this Earth, You will not be accepted by Him and the Father into Heaven.

Matthew 13 goes through a whole list of parables that Jesus gave about the likeness of the Kingdom of God, which I strongly encourage you to read. If I were to list them all here I'm afraid I would take up to much space.

In Luke 17:20-37 Jesus tells of the Kingdom of Heaven and it's coming, saying in verse 21 "...behold, the kingdom of God is within you...". We do not have to wait until the end of time to experience the Kingdom of God, it is within us when we accept the Lord into our life. The Hypocrites and Pharisees believed that they had the external part of "religion" down to a tee. And so they may have, but what was on the inside? Judgment, Hatred, Pride, Malice. The list could go on and on. "Religion" will not save your soul. The outside will not save your soul. Salvation through the Lord Jesus Christ is what will save your soul. He will go on the inside and make all things new, sanctifying you, and the outside will follow as He leads and builds the Kingdom of God within and through you.

Sunday night, Bro. Joel continued the series, titling this message "Being children of the Kingdom of God", reading text from Matt. 5:1-16. Jesus begins telling of the many blessings of the children of God and in verse 10 says "...for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

The children of the Kingdom are blessed beyond measure. That doesn't mean that we will never have problems or trouble, but we will have someone to depend on. We are blessed with an all-knowing, all-present and all-powerful God.

To be these said children of the Kingdom we must press beyond the norm. We have to go beyond what many think is the call and find the true call of the spirit filled through Christ Jesus. He does not call us to sit in the church walls saying "Our four and no more", He calls us to go out into the "highways and byways"(Luke 14:23), "to visit the fatherless and widows"(James 1:27), To feed the hungry and thirsty, take in the homeless, cloth the naked and visit the sick and the ones in jail (Matthew 25).

This is the call of the spirit filled children of the Kingdom of God, to go out and preach the gospel to the same ones that Jesus did. If He did it, why in the world shouldn't we? We are supposed to be Jesus-like, to do what He did. We have to go beyond the norm and do the outstanding will of God. It isn't promised that it will be easy, at times it may get very discouraging, but you hold fast to the fact that you know you are doing the will of God and that He will reward you for your faithfulness.

American Idol contest kicks off at art center

By Roni Gilpin

Lincoln County Idol, 2012 rocked the First Southern Community Art Center last Thursday night. The local talent was astounding and the large appreciative audience made for a fun, high energy evening. The contestants kicked off the competition with a group performance of "Celebrate" and although the $1,000 Idol prize is at stake, the spirit of cooperation and camaraderie within the group was evident throughout the night, and was indeed inspiring.

The first contestant to perform, backed up by his sister, Kristen (another contestant) was Lucas Harris. His performance of Little Big Town's "Boondocks" was a high energy crowd pleaser that warmed up the audience and had the whole room participating. Alex Andes followed with a much quieter, original number performed beautifully. The diverse talent, song selection and interpretation in each performance made for an evening that was anything but dull. The remaining contestants, Reed Gilliam, Charissa Gosser, Shelby Morgan, Alexandria Allen, Jordon Corn, LeAnn Waters, Kristin Harris, Hunter McKinney, and Jayne-Carley Warner each gave top notch performances as well.

The audience was treated to the guest performances of Leah Clark and last year's Lincoln County Idol, winner Haleigh Lanham. Guest judges for the evening were Carrie Smith, of Kentucky Soaps and Such, Renee Knies of WPBK Radio and Jefferson Calico.

What a night of talent, beautiful music and outpouring of community support. If you missed it, you still have an opportunity to be part of this exciting, high quality event.

Idol performances continue each Thursday night at 7 p.m. through May 24 when the winner will be announced. Remember, each audience member gets one vote, but you can also vote on facebook as well by going to www.facebook.com/lcidol and liking the page.

We hope to see you tonight night at 7 p.m.

Board discontinues transportation for preschool

need to also remember no matter what challenges are going on."

One of the school system's significant challenges was discussed at the meeting Thursday.

Hatter presented to board members four remediation options for the high school. The state ranked the school as persistently low-achieving, so local officials must work closely with state educators to revitalize education at the high school starting with the 2012-13 academic year.

The option that seems most feasible for a rural area such as Lincoln County is the transformation model, said Hatter.

The transformation model would provide ongoing professional development for teachers, link teacher evaluations to student performance, and implement strategies to provide students with expanded learning opportunities.

The Board of Education did not vote on the matter because the state will decide by the summer which option Lincoln County must use to remediate the high school.

However, other options such as closing the high school or restaffing at least 50 percent of the workforce at the school would not work for a county with just one high school, according to Hatter.

In other business, officials voted to discontinue transportation for the county's preschool program. The sole reason for the decision was budget cuts, Hatter said.

"We had to think long and hard about it," Hatter said. "It was a really tough decision."

Lincoln County also received its fourth Energy Star award since 2011. Crab Orchard Elementary was the latest school honored for conserving energy.

Energy Star awards, a program of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, are only given to the top 25 percent of facilities nationwide for energy efficiency.

To earn its four awards, Lincoln educators worked with Kentucky-based energy services company Harshaw Trane to upgrade lighting at Crab Orchard, Hustonville and Waynesburg elementary schools as well as at Lincoln County High School.

The school system expects to save about $133,234 annually by using more efficient lighting systems throughout the district.

"The Lincoln County Board of Education has proved that they are good stewards to the taxpayers and the environment," said Ernie Tacogue, Harshaw Trane account executive.

"Not only did they have the vision to invest in the infrastructure upgrades to make their buildings energy efficient, but they also used new technologies to operate the building efficiently. Proper operation of a building is key to the long term success of an energy conservation program."

Board Attorney Jonathan Baker swears in Theresa Long as the newest member of the Lincoln County Board of Education. Long fills the seat vacated by Eddie Whittemore when he resigned in January.

Sheriff, deputies audition for series

By Katelynn Griffin

Tuesday, several Lincoln County Sheriff's deputies were interviewed by a producer from National Geographic. Sheriff Curt Folger said they were contacted by National Geographic because they are currently in the process of developing a show, similar to that of Alaska State Troopers, about a rural Kentucky sheriff's department.

"The series would be about what Kentucky sheriffs go through on a daily basis," Folger said. We did not contact the producer; they showed an interest in the department and requested an interview, Folger said.

Folger, Chief Deputy Danny Gilliam and Deputy Ryan Kirkpatrick were interviewed by the show's producer via telephone. The producer asked an array of question in an attempt to get an idea as to what happens in Lincoln County as far as the types of calls law enforcement get on a daily basis. An important issue for consideration for the producer was the personality of the sheriff and the deputies, as well as the relationship the office has with the citizens of the county.

Folger said he thought the series would be positive and help bring to light some of the challenges law enforcement faces. "I think it would be a good thing because it would show people the hardships that we go through and the process we go through in order to get things done," Folger said. "It would also be positive for our county, considering it would be a national series."

It could be another two to three weeks before the Sheriff's Office knows if they are still in the running for the series. They're several Kentucky counties in the running, but the next step for the office would be to have a producer and small film crew come to the county and meet the officers. National Geographic hopes to narrow it down to one rural Kentucky county and have the series focus directly on them.

Calico, Weiskircher lead abuse awareness drive

By Katelynn Griffin

In 2008, according to Prevent Child Abuse Kentucky (PCAKY) 14,802 children were confirmed as victims of abuse or neglect, and 30 children died as a result of the abuse. April is designated as child abuse prevention month and several events have been scheduled to generate awareness throughout Lincoln County.

The campaign is a national event, but Cari Calico and Tracy Weiskircher are spearheading local efforts to bring awareness about children and family issues to the community.

Weiskircher, who works at the Lincoln County early childhood program, said that they're sponsoring a poster contest at the sixth grade center, have distributed blue ribbons and pins to members of the community, have constructed a display at the library that provides pamphlets about child abuse and have provided schools in the district with pinwheels. "Pinwheels represent hope and a future for children," Weiskircher said.

Wieskircher and Calico have partnered with PCAK, which according to their website is the only statewide child abuse prevention organization. Through community involvement and public awareness, PCAK hopes to prevent the abuse and neglect of Kentucky's children.

These events are held in an effort to generate discussion among community leaders and to bring to light the issues that affect our children, Weiskircher said. In order to prevent child abuse the entire community has to be involved in the process, she said.

Calico is a rape counselor and said that from year to year the statistics about child abuse will vary. "For our county, we had a little over 100 cases last year," Calico said. "What we would like to have across our state is the reality that every family has access to preventative services."

For more information, people can contact 1-800-CHILDREN or go to www.pcaky.org.

Big hits, inning help Lincoln defeat Garrard

By Nancy Leedy

For much of the season, the Lincoln County Patriots have had a hard time getting key hits at big moments in ball games. Monday night, Lincoln's bats came through for the team.

Boone Baird, Michael Wilcher and Ryne Otto knocked in runs for the Patriots in a five-run second inning, then Otto banged out a solo home run as Lincoln put away 45th District foe Garrard County 6-4.

"We scored a lot there early and got up, got ourselves a nice cushion," Lincoln coach Brad McNew said. "That was a big thing for us because we've struggled with our hitting. Tonight we got the hits to fall. This was the night where we finally found the holes and the other team didn't."

Monday's win was Lincoln's first in district play.

"Tonight was the biggest game on our schedule because we were 0-2 in the district. We had to win tonight," McNew said. "It didn't matter if it was 10-9, 4-3, 2-1. We had to win it. That got us a win in the district and got us back into this thing."

Chase Pemberton got Lincoln (11-7, 1-2) started in the big second inning by bunting for a base hit and Nick Smith followed him on with a walk. Dylan King moved the runners around with a single to left field then Baird and Wilcher tagged back-to-back singles to drive in Pemberton and Smith for a 2-0 lead.

King completed his trip around the bases off a Tanner Leigh sacrifice ground out. Baird also scored on a sac out but not before stirring up a little dust. Baird tagged up after John Day popped out to centerfield and just beat the throw to catcher Ronnie Saylor at home plate to up Lincoln's lead to 4-0.

Garrard starter Logan Teague was replaced by Caleb Harris after he gave up his sixth hit of the night, an RBI-single by Otto to score Wilcher.

Harris got Vinny Morris to ground out to finally end the inning.

"For the most part, our defense has carried us and our pitching but, today, we got some big hits when we needed them. Today we weren't hitting the ball at the other team, we were finding the gaps," McNew said.

Garrard (7-10, 1-2) left two runners on in both the first and second innings. It wasn't until the fourth inning that the Golden Lions knocked the goose egg off their side of the scoreboard.

Evan Smith led off with a single to center and Matt Wilburn followed with a shot to left field. Smith would be cut down by Day at third on a Sammy Galloway fielder's choice, but Wilburn moved on around, taking third on a Teague single then scoring on a Harris sacrifice fly.

Otto, who went 3-for-3 Monday, sent his final at-bat over the centerfield fence, leading off the bottom of the fifth inning with a solo home run to put Lincoln's lead back at five, 6-1.

Otto was 3-for-3 for the game in the Patriots' 6-4 win over Garrard County. At right, Dylan King connects for a single off Garrard's Logan Teague in the second inning. Lady Pat netters beat Boyle

Hart gets Pat 'W'

By Nancy Leedy

The Lincoln County girls tennis team was basking in the sun and the glory Monday afternoon as the Lady Patriots beat visiting Boyle County 6-3.

Kathryn Miracle, Cassie Smith, Kylene Williams and Alyssa Turner all courted victory against the Lady Rebels, producing four singles wins and three doubles "W's."

"Our girls played the best match of the season," Lincoln coach Allen Lewis said. "They all competed really hard and all of them had very competitive matches. Boyle has a good girls team, so it was great to see the girls come out and play the way they did."

Miracle, Lincoln's No. 1 singles player, led the way with a 6-3 win over Boyle's No. 1 player Nikol Pluess. Miracle then paired up with Williams at the one seed in doubles to hand Pluess her second defeat of the match. The Lincoln pair took down Pluess and Anna Duncan 7-5.

Smith, playing at No. 2 in singles, followed in Miracle's winning footsteps with a 6-2 win over Boyle's Victoria Horseman and a 6-2 doubles win with Turner. The Smith/Turner team took the second-seeded match over Boyle's Reva Toadvine and Malou Kellerman.

In addition to the doubles wins, Williams and Turner also fared well in singles play against the rival Lady Rebels. Williams defeated Anna Duncan of Boyle 6-4 at three while Turner topped Bailey Fowler 6-1 at four.

While the Lady Patriots savored the sweet taste of victory, the Patriots struggled in an 8-1 loss to the Rebels in the doubleheader.

LANCASTER – For three innings, Lincoln County and Garrard County were locked in a pitcher's duel.

But the Lady Patriots finally busted out the bats in the fourth, putting up seven runs and going on to down the host Golden Lions 9-1 in a 45th District matchup.

Lincoln did most of its damage with two outs, scoring six runs, with the main blast a three-run double from catcher Mary Beth Hogue in that fourth inning.

"It's one of those cases where you get that first run ad you relax a little bit at the plate, and I think that's what happened there," Lincoln coach Kevin Bandura said. "Mary Beth Hogue came through with a huge double, that's a big hit. That's what we expect out of her and that's what she provided for us. It wasn't a surprise to me she did it. She's a great leader for us and obviously that's a big hit for us and broke open the game."

Kellie Conley went 2-for-2 with two runs and an RBI and Jamie Bradford homered and had two hits for the Lady Patriots (11-9, 1-2).

But Lincoln could manage just one hit off of Garrard pitcher Hannah Day until the fourth inning.

"Their pitcher threw really well and I thought she did a good job of keeping our hitters off balance," Bandura said.

Conley was hit by a pitch to lead off the fourth, and Bradford had a one-out single. After Olivia Owens walked to load the bases, Day hit Kristen Meece to score Conley. Morgan Cooper then stepped up and ripped an opposite field single down the left-field line to drive in Bradford and Owens.

With two outs, Gabby Gabriel walked to load the bases again, but Hogue cleared them quickly, ripping a double to right field to score Meece, Cooper and Gabriel. Hogue then scored on Conley's double against the center field wall to give Lincoln a 7-0 lead.

Bunch, Hocker win at Lake Cumberland Classic

By Nancy Leedy

Juniors Alex Bunch and Santana Hocker were the leaders of the pack for the Lady Patriots and Patriots and the entire field as they captured first place in three different events at Saturday's Lake Cumberland Classic at Somerset High School.

Bunch collected two of the three wins, taking first in both the 1600-meter run and the 800-meter run. She did not have to battle for position at the finish in either race, finishing over 14 seconds ahead of the second-place runner in the 1600-meter run and 1.1 seconds ahead of the runner-up in the 800.

The Lady Pat runner took the 1600 in 5:24.60. Pulaski County's Peyton Ingram followed her across in 5:39.34. In the 800, Bunch covered the distance in 2:24.3 for first with Cora Kerber of George Rogers Clark in second place in 2:27.4

Akers would avenge the loss in doubles competition, however, as he and Ben Kendrick took the No. 1 match 6-3 over Hart and Ethan Smith.

was a good insurance run," said McNew. "That put us up five and I always tell the guys that we want at least a five-run lead because 'when a guy comes to the plate there, he can hit a home run but he can't win it.' It's just a little more cushion."

The Lincoln coach said he hopes that Otto's 3-for-3 effort means the Patriot senior is back on his game.

"It was good to see him get going tonight because he's been struggling a little bit," McNew said. "Tonight, he put the bat on the ball hard every time."

Garrard had threatened to score in the fifth, but Zach Brown got out of the inning unscathed, stranding two runners. The junior right-hander found himself in a jam, though, in the top of the seventh.

After a T.J. Midkiff line out, Brown gave up back-to-back hits to Seth Murphy and Saylor and two straight walks to Jared Meadows and Smith. Murphy, who had taken second on a wild pitch, scored on the Saylor hit to center.

Brown, who had given up nine hits with three walks, one hit batsman and five strikeouts, was replaced by Nolan Sanders.

Sanders, also a junior, fanned Matt Wilburn for the second out only to have Garrard score two runs off the next at-bat. Courtesy runners Jacob Wix and Jessie Cantrell got Garrard within 6-4 by scoring on a Galloway fielder's choice.

Lincoln tried to end the game on the fielder's choice with the attempted throw out of Smith at third but the throw was too late. Smith made it safely to third, however, Lincoln would finish off the Golden Lions on the play, cutting down Galloway as he tried to take second.

"We played pretty well for the most part. We got the timely hits that we needed and our pitchers came through for us again," McNew said. "(Zach) had hit the wall a little bit there in the seventh but he goes out tonight and gives us another great performance and gets us through. And Nolan Sanders did a great job coming in and throwing strikes. I had Nolan ready and he came in and did exactly what we asked him to do."

KHSAA adopts running-clock rule for basketball

The Kentucky High School Athletic Association Board of Control adopted a rule that will allow for a running clock in high school basketball games.

Beginning with the 2012-13 season, high school games at all levels will feature a running clock once the margin reaches 35 points in the second half.

The rule adoption was one of three significant moves made by the board at its meeting Monday in Lexington. The KHSAA also set the dates for this fall's state football finals and completed its alteration of the post-season soccer format.

At the point the margin reaches 35 points in a basketball game and the rule kicks in, the clock will stop only for charged timeouts, an injury/blood or disqualification and free-throw attempts. Once the official signals for the timer to stop the clock, it will start on the last missed free throw or once the ball is touched inbounds.

"This change helps ensure that the proper level of sportsmanship is emphasized, without having an impact on winning and losing," KHSAA commissioner Julian Tackett said in a news release. "There are countless stories detailed about 'out-of-hand' contests and the negative impact on school and working relationships."

Kentucky already uses mercy rules in football, soccer, baseball and softball.

Football championship dates

The KHSAA board approved the following dates for this season's six championship games, which will once again be played in Bowling Green at Houchens Industries-L.T. Smith Stadium:

Fri., Nov. 30: 1A, 3A and 4A.

Sat., Dec. 1: 2A, 5A and 6A.

The regular season opens Aug. 17, with the playoffs starting Nov. 2.

Soccer post-season changes

The state soccer tournaments will expand to eight teams this season, with a one-game semi-state round replacing the sub-sectional and sectional rounds.

Winners of the 16 regions will advance to the semi-state round. The 12th Region winners (12th Region includes Lincoln and area schools under new alignment taking effect) will play teams from the 9th, 10th or 11th regions under a six-year rotation.

The semi-state winners will advance to the state tournament, where pairings will be determined by blind draw.

"This is something our soccer coaches and advisory committee had explored for several years, finding a way to make this happen," KHSAA assistant commissioner Michael Barren said in the release. "We are pleased with the solution the board has approved, and we will give it a chance to allow soccer to grow."

Softball cruise

Gabriel would need, as she struck out four, walked three and did not allow an earned run.

"Gabby was outstanding today. She mixed her spots, mixed speeds. Really I thought hammered the low end of the strike zone and didn't get a lot of those calls," Bandura said. "I thought she pitched very, very well."

Lincoln was able to put two more up on the board in the seventh, again with two outs, when Bradford lined Day's two-out pitch to center, scoring Conley to make it a 9-1 game.

Garrard's lone run came in the fifth.

Hannah Grimes walked, went to second on a wild pitch and to third when Breanna Hocker's grounder was misplayed. The ball was dropped on Hocker's steal attempt allowing Grimes to score.

Garrard had its best chance to score in the second.

Hayley Hamilton walked with one and Day singled to right and Olivia Owens laid down a bunt single to load the bases. But Gabriel struck out Randa Morris and got Grimes to ground out to Bradford at third to end the threat.

"It's good pitching by Gabby, she came through with good pitches, and we made plays defensively. That's one thing that has hurt us, is that we've not made all the routine plays," Bandura said. "And we still didn't make all the routine plays, but we made the routine plays in the crucial situations."

"If they score right there, that's a team that, they get on top of you they're going to get some confidence, they start rolling and we're going to struggle after that. So don't underestimate getting out of that inning right there."

Garrard coach Jeff Meadors had to tend to a medical emergency with one of his players after the game and was unavailable for comment.

Day went 3-for-3 for Garrard (2-15, 0-3), and struck out seven with six walks. Hunter Clem had two hits for Garrard.

Neat wins Estes/Pena Memorial; Sullivan takes Sportsman

Brad Neat of Dunnville became the fifth different winner of the Chris Estes/Brad Pena Memorial at Ponderosa Speedway, earning himself a $2,500 payday in Saturday's fifth annual running of the Good Neighbor Pharmacy Late Model main event.

A total of three drivers rolled into victory lane Saturday night with J.T. Ayers of New Haven taking the checkered flag in Clayton Homes Modifieds and Donnie Sullivan of Stanford winning in the Ken Towery's Auto and Tire Care Sportsman division.

Dustin Linville drove to the race lead early in the Estes/Pena Memorial event with Greg Johnson and Brad Neat giving chase. The front trio entered slower traffic on lap 8 and hit heavy traffic on lap 15 before a caution slowed the pace. Neat eventually got around Johnson and Neat and Linville began sparring for the lead on lap 22, going side-by-side for the top spot on lap 26, before Neat finally grabbed the lead one lap later and he held on for the win.

Ayers grabbed the lead at the start of the 20-lap Clayton Homes Modified main event and was never headed, rolling to victory in his #28 mount.

Stanford's Sullivan picked up his second straight victory in the Ken Towery's Auto and Tire Care Sportsman division by leading all 15 laps in the seat of his #1 Chevy Camaro.

KHSAA adopts running-clock rule for basketball

The Kentucky High School Athletic Association Board of Control adopted a rule that will allow for a running clock in high school basketball games.

Beginning with the 2012-13 season, high school games at all levels will feature a running clock once the margin reaches 35 points in the second half.

The rule adoption was one of three significant moves made by the board at its meeting Monday in Lexington. The KHSAA also set the dates for this fall's state football finals and completed its alteration of the post-season soccer format.

At the point the margin reaches 35 points in a basketball game and the rule kicks in, the clock will stop only for charged timeouts, an injury/blood or disqualification and free-throw attempts. Once the official signals for the timer to stop the clock, it will start on the last missed free throw or once the ball is touched inbounds.

"This change helps ensure that the proper level of sportsmanship is emphasized, without having an impact on winning and losing," KHSAA commissioner Julian Tackett said in a news release. "There are countless stories detailed about 'out-of-hand' contests and the negative impact on school and working relationships."

Kentucky already uses mercy rules in football, soccer, baseball and softball.

Football championship dates

The KHSAA board approved the following dates for this season's six championship games, which will once again be played in Bowling Green at Houchens Industries-L.T. Smith Stadium:

Fri., Nov. 30: 1A, 3A and 4A.

Sat., Dec. 1: 2A, 5A and 6A.

The regular season opens Aug. 17, with the playoffs starting Nov. 2.

Soccer post-season changes

The state soccer tournaments will expand to eight teams this season, with a one-game semi-state round replacing the sub-sectional and sectional rounds.

Winners of the 16 regions will advance to the semi-state round. The 12th Region winners (12th Region includes Lincoln and area schools under new alignment taking effect) will play teams from the 9th, 10th or 11th regions under a six-year rotation.

The semi-state winners will advance to the state tournament, where pairings will be determined by blind draw.

"This is something our soccer coaches and advisory committee had explored for several years, finding a way to make this happen," KHSAA assistant commissioner Michael Barren said in the release. "We are pleased with the solution the board has approved, and we will give it a chance to allow soccer to grow."

Gabriel would need, as she struck out four, walked three and did not allow an earned run.

"Gabby was outstanding today. She mixed her spots, mixed speeds. Really I thought hammered the low end of the strike zone and didn't get a lot of those calls," Bandura said. "I thought she pitched very, very well."

Lincoln was able to put two more up on the board in the seventh, again with two outs, when Bradford lined Day's two-out pitch to center, scoring Conley to make it a 9-1 game.

Garrard's lone run came in the fifth.

Hannah Grimes walked, went to second on a wild pitch and to third when Breanna Hocker's grounder was misplayed. The ball was dropped on Hocker's steal attempt allowing Grimes to score.

Garrard had its best chance to score in the second.

Hayley Hamilton walked with one and Day singled to right and Olivia Owens laid down a bunt single to load the bases. But Gabriel struck out Randa Morris and got Grimes to ground out to Bradford at third to end the threat.

"It's good pitching by Gabby, she came through with good pitches, and we made plays defensively. That's one thing that has hurt us, is that we've not made all the routine plays," Bandura said. "And we still didn't make all the routine plays, but we made the routine plays in the crucial situations."

"If they score right there, that's a team that, they get on top of you they're going to get some confidence, they start rolling and we're going to struggle after that. So don't underestimate getting out of that inning right there."

Garrard coach Jeff Meadors had to tend to a medical emergency with one of his players after the game and was unavailable for comment.

Day went 3-for-3 for Garrard (2-15, 0-3), and struck out seven with six walks. Hunter Clem had two hits for Garrard.

McKinney students experience culture fair

On Wednesday, March 28th, students at McKinney Elementary participated in the school's second annual culture fair. Students were able to experience 20-minute presentations from talented and knowledgeable guests that were entertaining as well as informational.

All students in our school viewed an age-appropriate video about culture. The video discussed the different elements that make up what we consider culture to be. The video was used to get students to think about the information they were receiving at the culture fair.

Paul and Brenda Rice, local dulcimer makers, shared their knowledge of the Appalachian instrument, the dulcimer. Students were able to see different types of dulcimers as well as listen to the music produced by these instruments. The students really enjoyed seeing an instrument that originated in this part of the country and they also really liked seeing instruments that were made out of locally harvested wood.

Sara Pendygraft, a Hustonville Elementary teacher, shared her knowledge of Ethiopian culture with students. The students were able to taste some food that is a staple in the Ethiopian diet. She shared a video that was taken during a recent visit that she made to Ethiopia. One of the things that she shared with students that really grabbed their attention was a picture of the valley that is depicted in the movie the Lion King.

Donna Austin, a member of the McKinney Homemakers Club, shared her knowledge of barn quilts with students. She shared information with the students about preparing for and carrying out the process of creating a barn quilt. She shared information about some of her favorite patterns in quilting and where to see some of the barn quilts on display throughout our local region.

Sue Martin, a retired teacher, captivated each of her audience members with her storytelling ability. She used her experiences as a child growing up in McKinney to entertain the students in the intermediate grades. For students in the primary grades, she put her own unique twists on some favorite stories, involving the students with making movements and sounds.

Chris Vance, the band director at Garrard County High School, shared music and instruments from four different cultures around the world. Students experienced the instruments and music from Native Americans, West Africa, Brazil and Trinidad. The students were involved in learning about the instruments that were discussed from each of the cultures and had fun, too.

McKinney Elementary students and staff were very pleased with the information that was shared with them though the culture fair. McKinney students were given the opportunity to experience culture through different perspectives and viewpoints and gain a deeper understanding of how culture impacts the world we live in today.

Lincoln County Schools honored with fourth Energy Star award

Improvements to bring annual projected savings of $133,234 to the district

The Lincoln County School District has received an ENERGY STAR award for Crab Orchard Elementary. This is the fourth ENERGY STAR award for Lincoln County Schools since 2011. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA's) prestigious ENERGY STAR is the national symbol for protecting the environment through superior energy efficiency. This signifies that the building performs in the top 25 percent of similar facilities nationwide for energy efficiency. In recognition of this achievement, the district celebrated at the April 12 Board of Education meeting at 6:30 p.m. at the Lincoln County Board of Education.

"Our current energy consumption levels have resulted in a cost avoidance of over $150,000 compared to just two years ago," said T.J. Poliskie, School Energy Manager – Central Kentucky Region. "I am confident we will continue to reach new heights of efficiency and keep even more of our dollars in the classroom where they belong."

To earn the ENERGY STAR honor Lincoln County Schools worked with Harshaw Trane to update facilities by taking the following actions:

•New HVAC system with web-based controls and miscellaneous high-efficiency lighting upgrades to Crab Orchard Elementary School, Hustonville Elementary School and Waynesburg Elementary schools

•New HVAC system in gymnasium and high-efficiency lighting upgrades to Lincoln County High School

•Miscellaneous lighting upgrades throughout the district

Commercial buildings that earn the ENERGY STAR use an average of 35 percent less energy than typical buildings and also release 35 percent less carbon dioxide into the atmosphere. Lincoln County Schools improved its energy performance by managing energy strategically across the entire district and by making cost-effective improvements to its buildings. The total annual projected savings as a result of the project for Lincoln County is $133,234. Waynesburg Elementary School has achieved an annual savings of $47,814 while Hustonville Elementary School has saved $15,099, Crab Orchard Elementary has saved $41,794 and the Lloyd McGuffey Sixth grade Center has saved $2,470.

Currently, 146 Kentucky school buildings have received the ENERGY STAR award. Since its baseline year, the district has prevented the emissions of more than 660 metric tons of carbon dioxide, which is equivalent to the carbon sequestered by more than 17,000 tree seedlings planted and grown for 10 years.

"The Lincoln County Board of Education has proved that they are good stewards to the taxpayers and the environment," said Ernie Tacogue, Harshaw Trane account executive. "Not only did they have the vision to invest in the infrastructure upgrades to make their buildings energy efficient but they also used new technologies to operate the building efficiently. Proper operation of a building is key to the long term success of an energy conservation program."

Hustonville students have a fun day with a sundae

Hustonville Elementary School recently participated in American Heart Association's Jump Rope for Heart and Hoops for Heart fund-raising events.

Daniel Gay, PE teacher at HES, describes the fund-raiser as a "life-saving and educational community service program." Grades K-2 participated in Jump Rope for Heart and grades 3-5 participated in Hoops for Heart.

Combined, the students were able to raise $1,895.14 that will support American Heart Association research and education initiatives that save lives. "It is good to give students the opportunity to focus outward towards helping others. Sure, they get thank you gifts from AHA, but I try to emphasize the motivation for doing it is to help kids with "special" hearts and the true prize is just making a difference in people's lives."

As a reward for their efforts, the top fund-raiser from each grade got to enjoy a little "sweet" revenge on Mr. G for all of those laps they get to run during his class. They made an ice cream sundae, complete with syrups, nuts, whipped cream and cherries, on his head during an assemby in front of the entire student body.

AT RIGHT: Emilie Southerland, second grader at Hustonville Elementary, is all smiles as she unloads another scoop of ice cream on Mr. G's head.

Ephraim McDowell Regional earns quality respiratory care recognition

The respiratory department at Ephraim McDowell Regional Medical Center has earned Quality Respiratory Care Recognition (QRCR) by the American Association of Respiratory Care (AARC).

Ephraim McDowell Regional Medical Center is one of only 12 hospitals in Kentucky to earn recognition as a Quality Respiratory Care institution. Nationwide, about 700 of the 5,000 hospitals in the United States have achieved this honor. Ephraim McDowell Regional Medical Center has earned this status five previous years.

The QRCR program was started by AARC in 2003 to help consumers identify those facilities using qualified respiratory therapists to provide respiratory care. Hospitals earning the QRCR designation ensure patient safety by agreeing to adhere to a strict set of criteria governing their respiratory care services.

The AARC is a membership organization representing more than 46,000 health professionals involved in respiratory care nationwide.

Ephraim McDowell Regional Auxiliary sponsors teenage volunteer program

Are you a teenager, or do you know one who may be interested in a career in healthcare? Ephraim McDowell Regional Medical Center is accepting applications for our summer Teen Volunteer Program.

The program is open to teenagers age 14 through their senior year in high school. This program is particularly helpful to those interested in pursuing careers in health care, but also helpful to teenagers who are just looking to give back to the community through community service.

"Our volunteer program will provide teenagers a behind the scenes look at how a hospital delivers care to patients, says Linda Tillman, director, Ephraim McDowell Health Auxiliary. "Doctors and nurses are a big part of the continuum of care at a hospital, but there are many other roles and responsibilities at a hospital." Tillman adds, "Participants of the program will have opportunities to learn about duties such as; administration, accounting, marketing and much more."

The program will begin May 29 and continue through Aug. 3. Volunteers must attend a two-hour orientation session on May 21 or May 22.

Interested teenagers must register by May 4 by calling Theresa Conder at (859) 239-1231.

Visitors intrigue Waynesburg students

Waynesburg Elementary students had plenty of visitors recently. Some were scaly and some were just slick and some were out of this world. the students held lizards, turtles and frogs and were even brought together within the length of a snake. They also traveled to space in the Dome Theater which took the students on an educational ride to all the planets and our solar system.

Kyle Hampton, Breanna Crunkleton, Jansen Dunham and Jade Sims made friends with a snake that was part of the presentation.

Judea Correll carefully holds a frog during the recent presentation.

LEGAL NOTICE
Commercial Building
(Old Creamery)

The Commercial Building sitting on 4.2 +/- acres was purchased by the city of Stanford as part of the deed as recorded in Deed Book 380, Page 803 recorded in the Lincoln County Clerk's Office. The property was originally measured at 7.82 +/- acres. The property was purchased for economic development as it is adjacent to an area owned by the City that is the location of a replica of Fort Logan.

Now the City desires to retain roughly 3.62 +/- acres and declare the 4.2 +/- acres with the commercial building as surplus. The City desires to develop the 3.62 +/- acres and the current site where the replica of Fort Logan sits. The City does not foresee having the funds to also develop the 4.2 +/- acres with the commercial building within the next several decades. Therefore the City declares the 4.2 +/- acres with the commercial building as surplus.

The City will attempt to sell the real property by seal bids.

The real property was appraised by Joseph C. Ball dated March 20, 2012.

The City reserves the right to reject any and all bids.
